

After careful consideration I am announcing my candidacy for Mayor of the Village of Southern Victoria in the upcoming spring election. Southern Victoria is my home, and I have always been proud of the resiliency and community pride of its people.

I want to build on the solid foundation that our earlier community leaders have achieved for our area. Through a collective community spirit, we have built back stronger from the many challenges we have faced in the past. I know that one person cannot do it alone, it takes a team of Council and Staff pulling in the same direction to get things done. I want to provide leadership for our team while seeking partnerships with our provincial and federal programs and resources that will help our Village.

We all have strong ideas of what will work in our village. Over the next few months, I look forward to meeting with you, hearing your ideas and suggestions as we develop our priorities for the next four years. Working together with our Council and Staff we will focus on implementing our collective vision for our community; a vision that reflects our shared values and common purpose. I am proud to have contributed to our community in the past and I am committed and ready to serve you as your mayor as a person who leads with empathy, integrity and a true love of our community. I will work hard as your mayor to protect and enhance our rural way of life.

Please reach out to me at anytime by phone or email to discuss your ideas in moving Southern Victoria forward. I humbly ask for your support for Mayor of our wonderful village.
